Q: How do I set a default in a table of values using a string rather than the actual number? I want to be able to set a default value of a field in SQL Server rather than an actual value. I've got a query that's returning a string of values, instead of the actual number value, when the field has a blank value. If I have a table like this

ID	VALUE
1	A
2	B
3	4
F

I want a query that will insert the string "Blank" (or "Default") into the VALUE field if the field has no value. So the table ends up like this:

ID	VALUE
1	A
2	B
3	Blank
4	F

I can't find a function that will do what I need. I can use a function that will count the rows and figure out if there's a blank string to return the default, but I want to be able to use the SQL rather than code. A: You can try the following which uses a case statement to identify the value in the CASE WHEN expression then the CASE returns the default value on the end of the statement: SELECT ID
